

To Whom It May Concern,

RE: Letter of Recommendation for Daniel Kasem

I am pleased to recommend Daniel Kasem, who has been a valued Software Engineer at CogentSoftTech since 2022. As his Project Manager, I've seen Daniel consistently demonstrate dedication, analytical thinking, and a strong ability to solve complex problems.

Daniel has led successful initiatives that improved system performance, streamlined workflows, and enhanced user experience. His research-driven approach and commitment to delivering high-quality results have made a lasting impact on our organization.

He communicates clearly, collaborates effectively, and consistently meets project goals with precision.

Daniel's leadership and reliability make him an asset in both academic and professional settings.

I confidently recommend Daniel for any opportunity that values innovation, discipline, and results.

Please feel free to contact me for further information.

Sincerely,

Mohamad Ismail
